INDEX TO UNITED STATES CITIZENS REGISTER
HAVANA, CUBA

The following records are taken from the records of the United States Consulate at Havana, Cuba (RG84). The listing is chronological from the year 1871 and begins with the letter "A" though records within each letter are not strictly alphabetized. Besides the names of those registered, the listing includes the registration number. This may be used as a finding aid for the records of "Registration of American Citizens, 24 January 1869-31 December 1935".

These records contain notarized certificates of registration of American citizens at the Consulate General showing the name, date and place of birth, date and place of residence in foreign country, purpose of stay, wife's name and place of birth, children, how citizenship was obtained and passport number. The period of 1868-1878 was an era of a great deal of emigration from Cuba to the United States due to the Cuban Ten Years' War.

OF HAVANA, CUBA

The following records are taken from the records of the United States Consulate at Havana, Cuba (RG84). The listing is chronological from the year 1871 and begins with the letter "A" though records within each letter are not strictly alphabetized. Besides the names of those registered, the listing includes the registration number. This may be used as a finding aid for the records of "Registration of American Citizens, 24 January 1869-31 December 1935".

These records contain notarized certificates of registration of American citizens at the Consulate General showing the name, date and place of birth, date and place of residence in foreign country, purpose of stay, wife's name and place of birth, children, how citizenship was obtained and passport number. The period of 1868-1878 was an era of a great deal of emigration from Cuba to the United States due to the Cuban Ten Years' War.
